

PANEL DISCUSSION

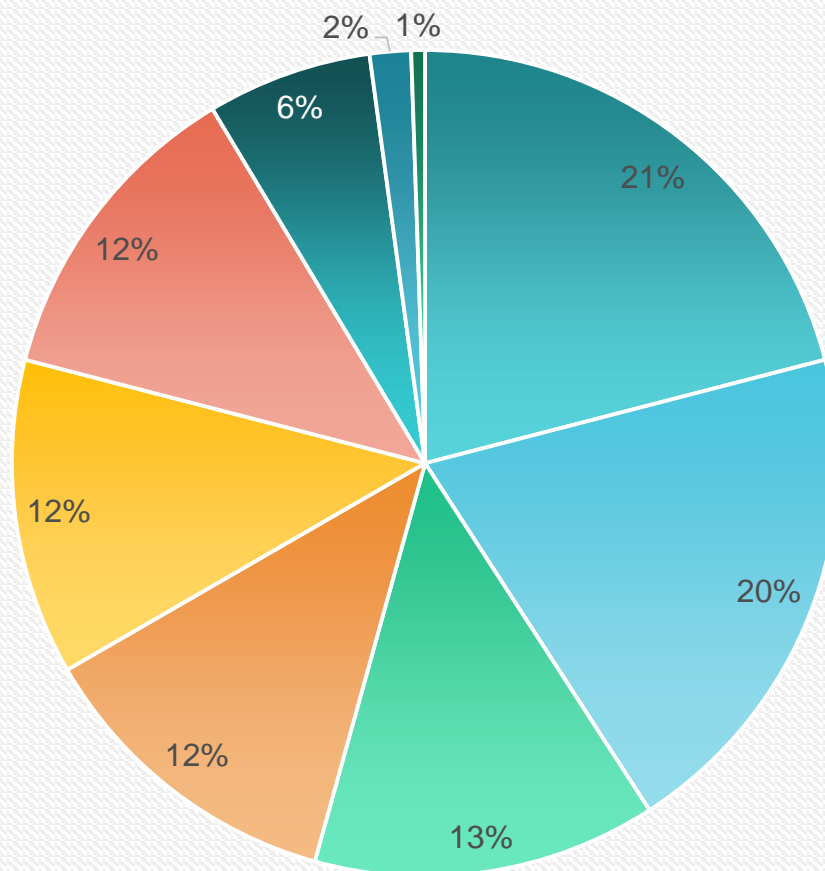

Survey June 2020

In your country of activity, could you rate on a scale of 1 (lowest) to 5 (highest) the level of knowledge on energy efficiency of the building workforce?

Survey June 2020

Which of these mechanisms are most likely to support the upskilling of building professionals in the field of energy efficiency?

- Financial incentives for home and building owners to use skilled professionals for renovation works or for new constructions
- Obligation to use skilled professionals to answer public tenders
- National quality label/certification demonstrating the competence of building professionals
- Awareness raising campaigns showing the importance of skilled professionals to achieve high energy performing buildings
- Public registers listing skilled professionals, matching supply and demand
- Trainings/ tools specifically designed for SMEs
- Pan-European quality label/certification demonstrating the competence of building professionals
- Other
- Don't know